*There was a great field that tilted
Its whiteness up to the line where the slant, blue knife-edge of sky
Cut it off. I stood
In the middle of that space. I looked back, saw
My own tracks march at me. Mercilessly,
They came at me and did not stop. Ahead,
Was the blankness of white. Up it rose. Then the sky.*

DEDICATION

ROBERT PRUITT

When one hears a voice from the depths of the Biology lab saying, "ON A SCALE OF ONE TO IDIOT . . .," one can be assured that it is the one and only Mr. Robert Pruitt. From lecturing on the significance of carbon atoms, telophase, and the mating habits of tree frogs, Mr. Pruitt engages every student in his lively discussions. His one-liner wit keeps everybody awake and alert for another Pruittism.

When the school day is over, Mr. Pruitt sloughs off his lab coat and becomes mighty Coach Pruitt, head of the cross-country and track teams. As cross-country coach he led the team to fourteen-straight wins from 1980-1994 in the Region VI meet and took the team to seventeen consecutive appearances in the State meet, both Tennessee records. Most recently in track, Coach Pruitt led the team to victory the past two years in the Region meet, as well as a fourth-place finish in the State team-relay meet. It is with great honor and pride that the yearbook staff dedicates the 1996 Bell to Mr. Robert Pruitt.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming 1995 proved to be a great success. The festivities started off on 13 October with the annual Spaghetti Supper, sponsored by the Mother's Auxiliary Club, as students and adults from Middle Tennessee came for a plate of pasta. The MBA moms and dads did a terrific job organizing this year's supper to accommodate the multitude that flocked to Brownlee O'Currey Gymnasium. After the Big Red Club hosted alumni, students, and friends of MBA, thoughts turned to the Homecoming game between the Big Red and the Whites Creek Cobras. The Big Red maintained control en route to a solid 14-0 win over the reeling Cobras. With that victory, all eyes turned to the ever-popular Homecoming Dance.

Students packed the gym to dance to the sounds of Peel. The band was great, and the dancing was wild as the students and their dates strutted their stuff to songs like "Jenny," "You Don't Know How It Feels," "Trivial Pursuit," and the first and probably last metal version of Garth Brooks' "The Dance."

The traditional spaghetti supper and dancing set the tone for another successful Homecoming weekend.

Mom, thanks for understanding and helping. Dad, thanks for showing me the way and for never losing faith. Most importantly, thanks to my maker.

"If we this shadow have offended,
Think but this and all is mended:
That you have but slumbered here
While these visions did appear.
And this weak and idle theme,
No more yielding but a dream.
Gentles, do not reprehend.
If you pardon, we will mend.
And, as I am an honest Puck,
If we have unearned luck
Now to 'scape the serpent's tongue,
We will make amends ere long.
Else the Puck a liar call —
So good night unto you all.
Give me your hands, if we be friends,
And Robin shall restore amends."
— William Shakespeare, A Midsummer Night's Dream, recited by Dr. Douglas Paschall

"There is an almost unbearable pain needling in my fingers as a result of these overabundant scribbles. I must lay down my pencil, my engine of truth, and bathe my crippled hands in some warm water. My intense devotion to the cause of justice has led to this lengthy diatribe, and I feel that my circle-within-a-circle on Fortuna's wheel is zooming upward to new successes and heights."

Bradford Gioia

Headmaster

Mr. Bradford Gioia is in his second year at Montgomery Bell Academy. In addition to his duties as headmaster, Mr. Gioia teaches AP English. By expecting all MBA students to meet the high standards he sets for himself, Mr. Gioia urges each student to achieve the goal of gentlemen, scholar, athlete, and artist. Mr. Gioia has a B.A. in English from the University of the South, an M.A. from Middlebury College, and an M.Ed. in Administration from West Georgia College.

Martha Thurmond

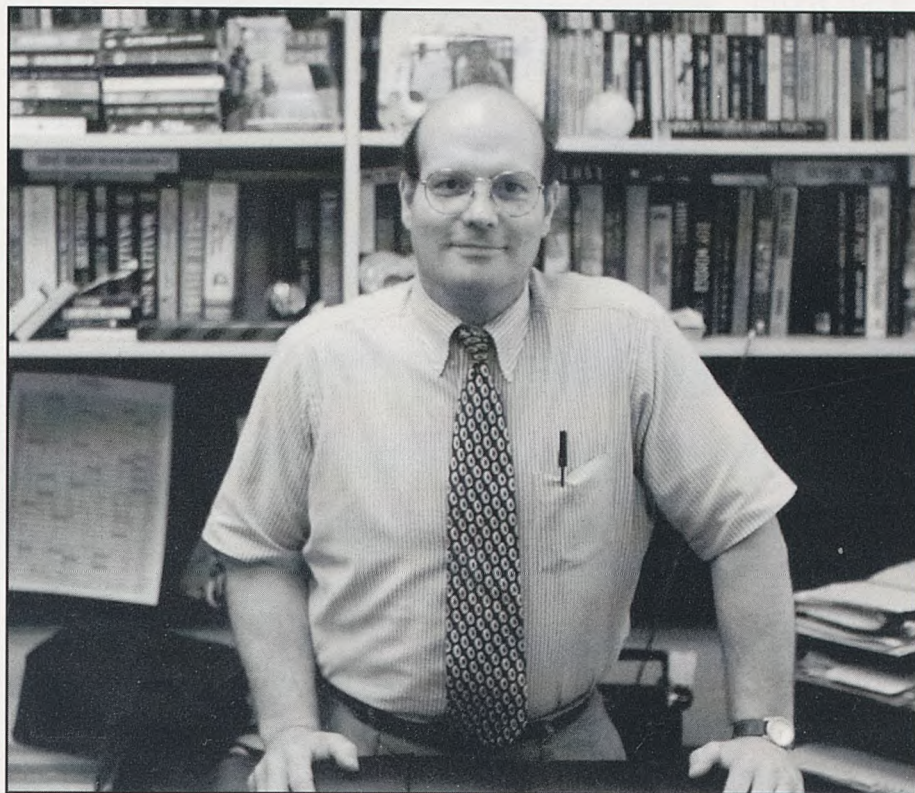

Director of the Junior School

Ms. Martha Thurmond is in her fourth year of directing the Junior School at MBA. Along with these demanding duties, she teaches seventh-grade science. Ms. Thurmond continues to be the driving force behind the development of the Junior School curriculum, her enormous popularity earned by her care for the boys and the discipline she demands. Ms. Thurmond received her B.S., M.Ed., and Ed.S. from the University of Georgia.

Damon Regen

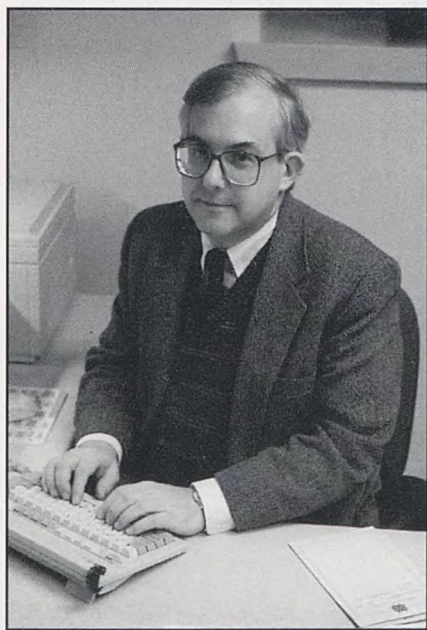

Director of the High School

Mr. Damon Regen continues to serve MBA as the Director of the High School. His job demands a diversity of skills, be it structuring activity programs to maintaining discipline, or saving stray ducks in the creek to raising stray cats in his office. By his example, Mr. Regen encourages the boys to stand tall and take pride in themselves. As sponsor of the Big Red Club and as a diehard alumnus, Mr. Regen keeps our spirits high. He received his B.E. from Vanderbilt University and teaches Cal/Stat and Geometry.

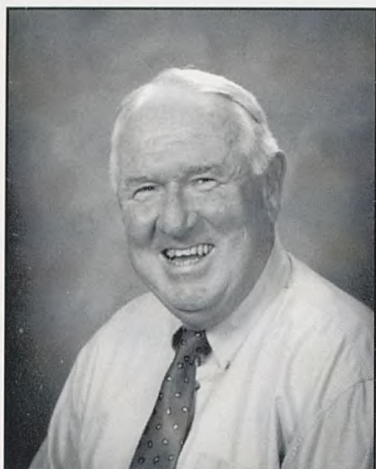

Edward Gaffney

Academic Dean

Dr. Gaffney brings to bear on the Office of Academic Dean his two decades of experience as a teacher of Classics, a former head of the Junior School, and ex-chairman of the Foreign Languages Department. This year Dr. Gaffney spearheaded the new registration process and stabilization of the curriculum. Most importantly, he guides the faculty in their quest to provide the best teaching that Nashville offers. Along with the many hats he wears as Academic Dean, Dr. Gaffney teaches Greek and Latin to many lucky students.

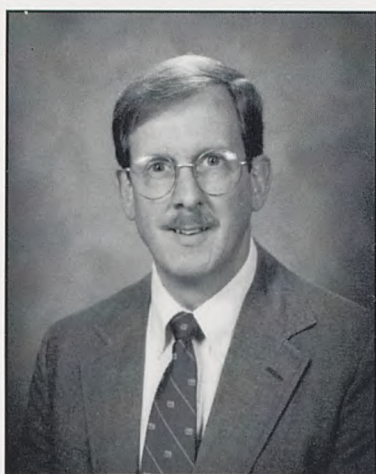

DIRECTORS

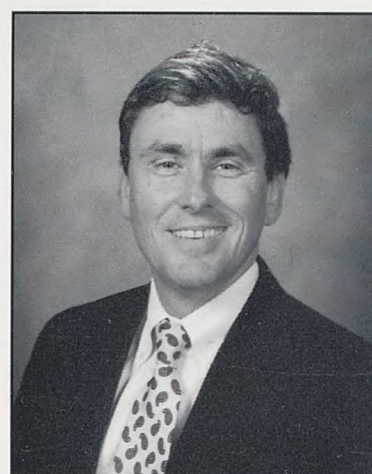

Mr. John Bennett is the MBA Athletics Director. He also teaches mathematics and serves as Chairman of the Discipline Committee. He earned his B.E. from Vanderbilt University.

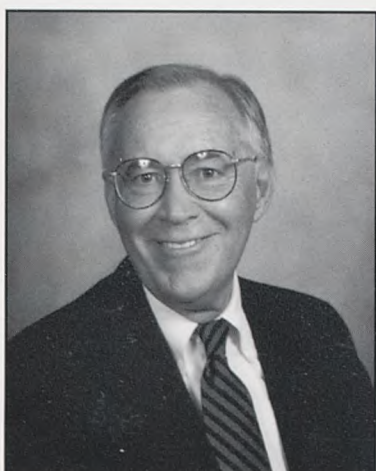

Ms. Janet Hensley serves as the Director of Admissions and Financial Aid and teaches a class of Ancient-Medieval history. She received her B.A. from Randolph-Macon and her M.A.T. from the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Robert Patrick serves as MBA's Director of College Counseling and teaches one class of English I. Mr. Patrick earned his B.A. from Kenyon and his J.D. from the University of Connecticut School of Law.

Mr. Samuel Jackson serves MBA as Director of Finance. He has a B.A. from Auburn University.

Mr. James Poston continues to serve as Director of Guidance Counseling. Associated with MBA for thirty-four years, he presently teaches English I and Drug and Sex Education. Mr. Poston also coaches our state-champion Varsity Tennis Team. He has a B.A. from Belmont University and a M.A. from Peabody College.

ALUMNI AND DEVELOPMENT

Athletic events sponsored by the school bring alumni together for golf, tennis, basketball, baseball, and fun.

Planning and direction of the Alumni and Development Office is provided by Tom Weaver (Class of 1965), with Ken Downey (Class of 1982) managing the Annual Fund, Ruth Napier acting as event coordinator, and Peggy Kirby serving as an administrative assistant. Through the Alumni Association, the Alumni Office promotes activities both on and off campus. Alumni chapter events each year in cities such as Atlanta and Washington D. C., Reunion Weekend and Career Day, and the annual December holiday dinner are organized for students, parents, alumni and friends of MBA and the Wallace School. In addition, an all-school magazine is produced by the Alumni Office three times a year, highlighting special events, awards, and achievements for faculty, students, and alumni. Finally, MBA's development effort is built upon the Annual Fund, which is aimed at funding approximately ten percent of the school's yearly operating budget. The Annual Fund, together with periodic capital campaigns for endowment growth, the addition of new buildings, and other special needs, are coordinated by the Alumni and Development Office.

Special events for alumni and friends of MBA and the Wallace School provide frequent chances for remembering and celebrating.

As the summer's sun loomed, Coach Bowers, with a year under his belt, prepared the Big Red for what would become a stellar year. With few returning starters and a very rough schedule, with games versus Gallatin and Christian Brothers, and a strong region in which to compete, the future seemed bleak. The Big Red started off the season at Gallatin, where a very determined squad defeated the Green Wave. After a crushing loss at Clarksville Northeast, the Big Red became electrifying. With big wins against Hunter's Lane and Christian Brothers, the state playoffs loomed in everyone's minds. With a tough first-round opponent in Lincoln County, the Big Red defense stepped up to win 10-3. In the next round, the MBA squad faced Jackson-Central Merry, who knocked the Big Red out of the playoffs last year, 42-0. The Big Red with some fourth quarter heroics, defeated JCM 14-10. Playing their third straight home game in the playoffs, the Big Red faced the Henry County Patriots, which MBA had defeated during the regular season, and whipped them again in a 37-30 victory. Next up for the Big Red was a game at Brentwood Academy in the semifinals of the state. While setting the record for most wins in MBA history, the team was determined to defeat BA in a showdown. Brentwood Academy defeated MBA, in a heartbreaker, 35-10.

The 1995 Big Red squad was led by Captains John McClendon and Dan McGugin. The offense was piloted by quarterback Bill McGugin, receivers Paul Russell and John Ozier, and running backs Leland Prevost, Will Bartholomew, and Max Fuller. Doing the blocking and, while getting no respect, pounding on opposing defenses were Jon Gaston, Dave Morgan, Matt Berry, Scott Denbo, Tyler Coleman, Rob Bearden, and John McClendon. As far as special teams go, the Big Red had a superb kicker in John Markham, who made field goals from 40+ yards. The Big Red defense was the focal point of the team, constantly limiting teams to 10 points or less. On the line, Gaston, Denbo, McClendon, Titus Thomas, and Jason Powell helped to thwart the offense. Ends David Cate, Will Bartholomew, and Tyler Coleman, along with linebackers Dan McGugin and Aaron Lara helped to keep the opposition in check. The defensive backs, led by Daniel Johnson, Fuller, Blake Sloan, Hanley Sayers, Duke Rose, Steele Yancey and Will McInnes, proved to be an asset for the defense. The 1995 Varsity Football Team would like to thank Coach Bowers, Coach Caudill, Coach Elliot, Coach Roberts, Coach Moore, Coach Morrissey, and Coach Pearson for the skills taught to us and for leading the team to the final four of the state tournament and third in the state.

The 1995 MBA Cross Country team began its season with a strong first place finish in the annual Drake Invitational at Steeplechase. After Brevard College Distance Runners Camp and the Drake, the team felt confident. The Big Red then finished eighth in the next two big meets, the Tennessee Classic and A.F. Bridges. When the Cross Country team travelled to Kentucky, they won the Lexington Classic Invitational for the first time in a couple of years. The senior leadership of Scott Bowen, James Gunn, Jim Alley, Chris Jones, Stephen Wall, Jon David Daniell, and Douglas Kasselberg helped keep the team motivated throughout the season and especially down the stretch run. The end of the season was soon upon them with the District, Metro, and Region meets, in which all three they finished second. After the Region meet, MBA advanced to the State meet and finished ninth. All in all, even with the second-place finish in the Region, the team had an outstanding season. Scott Bowen was the top finisher for the Big Red in the District, Metro, and State meets and James Gunn was the winner of the Runway mile. David Dean was named to the All-District First Team. Jim Alley, Scott Bowen, James Gunn, Colin Bonfiglio, Stephan Schirmer, and Hunter Verner were all on the All-Metro Team. Furthermore, James Gunn and Scott Bowen were named to the Tennesseean All Mid-State First team. The Big Red Cross Country Team had a good season thanks to young talent, the expert knowledge, and guidance of Coach Pruitt, Coach Corzine, and Coach Rundberg.

Returning four out of the top five from the 1994 season, the expectations for the MBA Golf team this season were high. The first test of the '95 team was at Cookeville Country Club in the Early Bird Invitational where MBA came away with the coveted second-place trophy, with Brandt Snedeker and Noble Judy placing in the top ten. The team ran out of the gates running with a 10-0 start, including key victories over Brentwood High, Brentwood Academy, Franklin Road Academy, and David Lipscomb. In the second half of the season, the golf team suffered two setbacks(each by only one stroke) to Clarksville and Ryan.

With a 15-2 regular season record, the team felt confident moving into tournament play. In the District Tournament at McCabe Golf Course, MBA placed second behind a strong Ryan performance. Brandt Snedeker received the fourth-place medalist score of 74. The Big Red prepared day and night for the region tournament. This action proved fruitful as the Big Red ran away with the region championship. Noble Judy placed fourth with a 78, with the rest of the team not far behind. MBA qualified for the state tournament as a team for the first time in three years. The team struggled in the first round, but rebounded to finish seventh in the state. David McDowell led the team with a strong two-day total of 155, and Elliott Teague led with a 39 scoring average. The Big Red would like to thank Coach Caldwell for helping the team with a great season.

The MBA Varsity Basketball team was still reeling from the loss of four starters. As Will Coles left to continue a basketball career at Furman, MBA had to fill a void at center. Up stepped sophomore Whit Smith. At the beginning of the season, Whit was lost among the district stars, Charles Hathaway and Jonathan Henderson. Although Whit lost some height to each one, he overcame it with the help of fellow big man Allen Cermak and the coaching staff. Cermak proved to be a vital player for the Big Red, with his key rebounding and defensive skills. He also showed poise and intensity as he scored key points in crucial games. Will Connelly and Omari Booker, the dunking prodigy, proved to be valuable backups for the front court. At guard, Michael Godwin was as good as it gets in the district. Godwin provided sharp outside shooting, including 33 points versus Stratford in the season opener. Godwin constantly scored in double digits and played almost every minute of every game. Grant Martin and Stephen Marler rained three-pointers, keeping the opposition in check. Brent Osborn, the inspirational leader, along with Grant Martin never hesitated to push around the competition. The team came down the stretch eyeing the district tournament. With a tough district, MBA was seeded fourth against a tough Overton team. With the loss of star Michael Godwin, MBA lost a close game to Overton, 40 to 38. We would like to thank all the fans who supported the team throughout the year. The MBA team is looking forward to a spectacular season next year. Thanks to Coach Bills and his staff.

With the absence of swimming god, Jeremy Kane, the future of the swim team looked dim for Coach Rundberg and the others, but MBA pulled together under the leadership of captain Sam Kuykendall. With the help of super-power Chris Nalbantyan and rising star Jonathan Baird, the swim team picked up some unexpected help that easily replaced Jeremy "Sugar" Kane. This year, perhaps the best that MBA has ever had, has brought defeats to Brentwood by over forty points and first place at the all-day Excel Invitational in Gallatin by over 100 points. Top five performances were by Adrian Cameron, Jonathan and Peter Chen, Chris Kellam, Sam Kuykendall, and Jonathan Baird. Taking time out from his busy swim schedule, James Walton pontificated, "The swim team has higher goals than ever this year because we have such great depth. We have three or four swimmers in every event and two relay teams for each relay. This is very rare for MBA to have such depth in swimming, and I think it reflects increasing team spirit and good coaching over the years." The MBA swim team finished a strong second place in Region.

The 1995-1996 wrestling season marked the beginning of a new era for MBA wrestling. After guiding many impressive teams throughout the years, Coach Luther Killian handed over the reins of head coach. Although Coach Killian remains on the staff as the most highly-qualified assistant coach in America, the Big Red Wrestling team is now in the Simpson Era. Under Head Coach Frank Simpson, the Big Red made tremendous strides this season towards its first State Championship.

Although the team was ravaged by sickness during the first part of the season, the Big Red had some significant achievements. In the first week, the Big Red finished a meager eighth out of sixteen teams at the Hendersonville Invitational and placed only three wrestlers, Bryan Keane, Sterling Sanders, and Alan Roe. In the following week, after a heartbreaking loss to Clarksville Northwest and a humiliating loss to Clarksville High, the team, in shambles from a team-wide epidemic, travelled to Cleveland, Tennessee. Despite the plague, the Big Red managed to defeat traditional powerhouse Northwest Whitfield (GA). Following the Middle Tennessee Grand Championships, in which we finished fourth, the Big Red had several dual meets cancelled; however, a cocky Brentwood Academy team dared show their faces, and despite the publicity surrounding them, the Big Red defeated the "Small Class" State Champion Eagles.

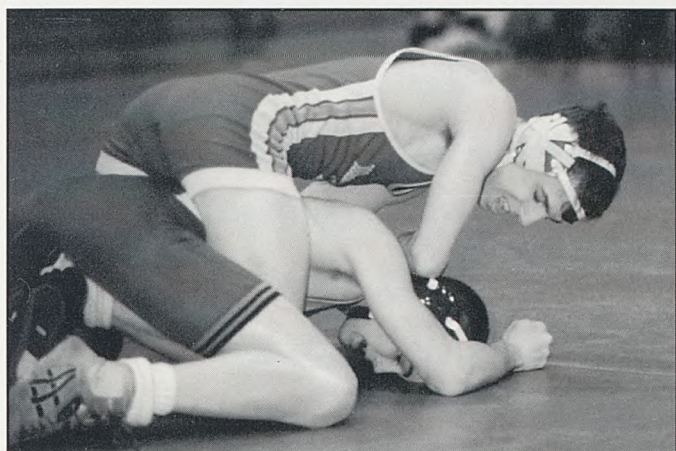

The post-season saw the Big Red qualify eleven wrestlers for the State Tournament, the most in recent MBA history. The increase in state qualifiers was a tribute to the team's steady improvement throughout the season. In the State Tournament, both Alan Roe and Will Bartholomew finished an impressive fifth in their weight classes. Bartholomew, who lost in the quarterfinals, fought his way back through Will West, last year's State runner-up. Bartholomew defeated West by what will be forever known as The Throw. Along with our twelfth-place State finish, The Throw foreshadows great things to come for the Big Red in the years ahead.

Varsity Riflery

The 95-96 shooting season was one marked by remarkable progress for the MBA Riflery Program. For the better part of fifty years, MBA has competed in a small bore league at Vanderbilt. For the first time, however, the six-year-old air rifle team was combined with the small bore program.

In air rifle competition, the team enjoyed its most successful year to date, entering twelve matches total which is more than the previous five years combined. The team entered five separate tournaments and placed first or second in all except one. In one-on-one matches, the team did very well, compiling a 4-2 record against teams from Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and California. On the trip to Georgia and Alabama, the team shot against three of the best teams in the South-- Creekside High School, Carver High School, and Huffman High in Birmingham. The team suffered defeat only from Creekside, beating the other two teams handily.

With small bore rifles, the team expanded its horizons. On two separate occasions, the team competed in matches with small bore rifles at Tennessee Tech in Cookeville, placing second in both. Joined by senior Daniel Rivers, the team also competed in the league competition at Vanderbilt. The team had a rough time in the first four matches and could only manage a third-place finish. However, in the last match before the State competition, the team broke ahead of recent powerhouse FRA and took first place. In the State competition a week later, the team of David Gregory, Daniel Rivers, Andrew Esterday, and Andrew Thomison dethroned FRA, last year's state champions. In the individual competition, MBA had all four shooters in the top ten and took first and third place as well.

The team's future looks very good. With only one senior graduating and a pool of over twenty BB gun shooters from which to draw, the team has excellent prospects for even more improvement. "When you think of what we accomplished with one senior, two freshmen, and two eighth graders," said Coach Lujan, "you know the future is bright for the MBA rifle program." Thanks a billion to Coach Lujan's expertise and dedication.

The 1996 MBA baseball team was determined to return to the state tournament after losing in the state finals to Germantown. The MBA team had lost many key seniors from last year's team, so the future looked bleak. The team led off their season with a squeaker of a win against Dickson County, and then continued dominating their district games. After a mild detour of losing in the Memphis tournament, the Big Red rallied behind the arms of Duke Rose and John Sexton to cruise into the district tournament. During the season, the Big Red continued their three-year tradition of never losing a home game, while going undefeated in the district. In the region, however, the team fell short and lost to McGavock in the Region finals.

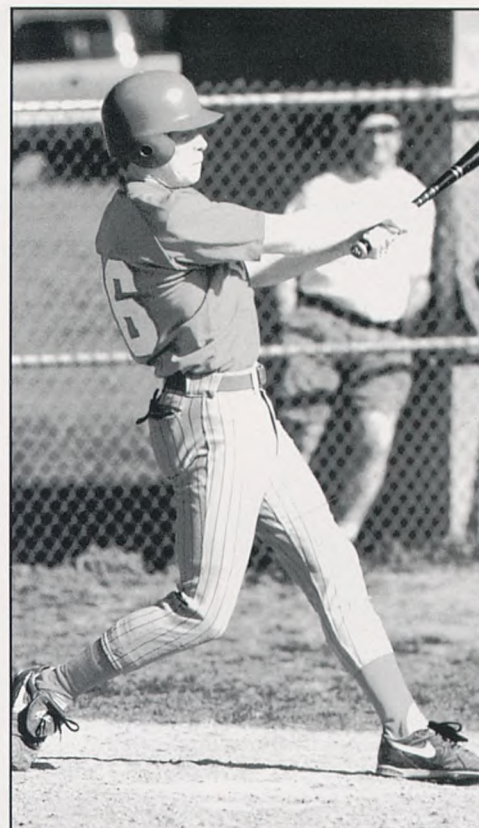

The MBA baseball team was spearheaded this year by their pitching. Senior John Sexton (72 strikeouts, 10 wins, 1.85 ERA) and sophomore Duke Rose (87 strikeouts, 8 wins, 2 saves, 1.59 ERA) constantly baffled opposing hitters, receiving all-district awards. At catcher, Matt Garrett (.368, 2 home runs, 23 RBIs, 3 stolen bases) was named District Player of the Year. The infield consisted of first baseman Andy Anderson (.291, 10 RBIs), All-District second baseman Grant Martin (.475, 2 home runs, 25 RBIs, 3 stolen bases), shortstop Michael Martin (.333), and All-District third baseman Corey Yates (.356, 5 home runs, 15 RBIs, 5 stolen bases). The outfield consisted of Allen Huggins, Will McInnes (.333, 2 home runs), and Whit Polley. The MBA team, led by District Coach of the Year Pat Woolsey, helped to raise the team above their expectations. The team would like to thank Coach Woolsey, Coach Wims, and Coach Small for their leadership, and all the fans for their support down the stretch.

The 1996 Varsity Soccer Team, led by captains Brent Osborn and Scott Blount, finished the season with a record of 7-5-3. The season was highlighted by some strong victories and solid matches against some of the best teams in the state. In fact, the Big Red's tough schedule pitted them against seven different teams with Top Ten ranking. After tying a tough Hendersonville team and beating USN, the MBA Soccer Team was ranked eleventh in the state. The squad would continue to play well, as evident in dominating victories over Hillwood, Clarksville NE, and Overton.

The regular season record gave the Big Red a second place seed entering the District Tournament. Unfortunately, a double overtime 2-1 loss to Hillsboro, whom the Big Red tied in the regular season, ended the Varsity Soccer season and gave the team a third-place finish in the District Tournament. Sophomore Paul Wieck, though hampered by injuries most of the season, led MBA with ten goals. Using both his head and his feet, Junior Josh Mixon scored six goals. Most of his goals came in key situations, including both MBA scores against his hometown Hendersonville team. Senior Brent Osborn tallied up four goals, while the forward tandem of Jay Davis and Beau Gorrell scored seven and four respectively. Also scoring for the Big Red were Phil Armstrong, Frank Blair, Jared Ford, and Jamie Pfeffer. Junior goalkeeper Scott Blount saved many games with his dazzling saves and received All-Region honors. Scott Blount, Josh Mixon, and Paul Wieck made the First Team All-District squad. Defensive anchor Mark Burish, who guarded the top opposing player, and center midfielder John Markham received Second Team All-District Honors. Jay Davis and Beau Gorrell received Honorable Mention as freshmen. Though losing seniors Corbett Gibson, Chris Jones, Daniel Johnson, Jamie Pfeffer, and Brent Osborn, the Varsity Soccer Team looks forward to next season. We would like to thank Coach Lanier, Coach Needer, Johnny Bubonic and Mark Yopp for their help with this year.

The 1996 MBA Tennis team completed another successful season this past spring. The team compiled a 12-3 match record and successfully defended their Carter Invitational Title, but were unable to repeat as Rotary and State team champions. The Big Red aces defeated such perennial powers as MUS, McCallie, Bradley Central, and Brentwood (twice), with losses coming at Louisville, St. Xavier and Chattanooga Baylor (twice).

The Big Red netters breezed through district, region, and sub-state matches before losing to Baylor 4-3 in the state final four on the Red Raiders' home courts. The tennis team looks forward to another winning season next year and hopes for the younger players to step up after the loss of seniors, two-time state doubles champs, and two-time state Co-Players of the Year, Bill and Daniel McGugin.

Back Row (L-R): Todd Lawrence, Michael Eskind, Douglas Holliday, Stephen Marler, Michael Higgins, Colin Bonfiglio, Philip Zimmerman, Sam O'Connell, Robert Arendale, Brian Morgan, Alfonso Escobar, Andrew Ward, Stephen Wall, Preston Bottomy, David McIntosh, Rob Brackin, Alex Harwell; Middle Row: Will Billips, Lee Hampton, Derrick Fuller, Chase Neal, Scott Denbo, Blake Sloan, Paul Russell, Will Bartholomew, Thomas Felch, David Cate, Phillip Berry, Cory Eldrige, Jon David Daniell, Russell Taber, Scott Bowen, Ben Gambill, Jim Alley; Bottom Row: Robert Sawyer, Alan Halachmi, Will Akin, James Gunn, Hanley Sayers, Max Fuller, Leland Prevost, John Steele, Will Alexander, John Ozier, David Dean, Steele Yancey, Michael Griffin.

AT THE BEGINNING of 1996 season, the MBA track team was determined to extend its two-year stint as region champions to an unprecedented third-consecutive year. The loss of several athletes to graduation and the emergence of Hunters Lane and Maplewood as formidable region foes, however, made this a daunting goal. With outstanding senior leadership and the strongest shot putter in TSSAA history, MBA was able to overcome several early season disappointments and achieve a third-consecutive region title.

Undoubtedly, MBA's success in field events provided a strong foundation upon which the Big Red was able to achieve this goal. Under the leadership of Senior David Cate and Junior shot putter Scott Denbo, the MBA field event team dominated the region. Other valuable participants included Will Bartholomew (shot put), John Ozier (pole vault), Harwell Horton (discus), Paul Russell (high jump), and Max Fuller (pole vault). After breaking some records (some set by his own father), Scott Denbo placed first in the Optimist, Banner, Region, and State track meets, setting a new state record in the process. Will Bartholomew and John Ozier also went on to participate in the state meet.

The running events were anchored by a strong middle and long distance team led by Seniors James Gunn, Jim Alley, Scott Bowen, and Stephen Wall. After winning the mile in both the Optimist and the Banner relays, James Gunn impressed the crowd in the region with his first-place finish in the mile and second-place finish in the 800m run. He went on to represent MBA in these two events at the state track meet, where he finished a respectable sixth (800m) and fifth (1600m). Scott Bowen (3200m relay, 1 mile, and 2 mile), Jim Alley (3200m relay and 2 mile), Stephen Wall (3200 relay), Russell Taber (3200m relay), and David Dean (3200m relay, 1 mile, and 2 mile) were also frequently top finishers. In the face of stiff competition. Our sprinting team also performed well under the leadership of senior Jon David Daniell (400m relay, 400m, and 1600m relay) and sophomore Michael Higgins (400m relay, 400m, 1600m relay), a second-place finisher in the 400m who qualified to run in the state track meet as well. Other valuable tracksters included Stephen Marler with his second-place finish in the region decathlon and participation in the hurdles and 1600m relay, Blake Sloan (1600m relay), Will Alexander (800m relay and 1600m relay), David McIntosh (400m relay), Leland Prevost (400m relay), Steele Yancey (800m relay), and Michael Eskind (800m relay and 110m hurdles).

Because of the hard work of all these runners and the expertise of coaches Pruitt, Compton, and Corzine, MBA placed an impressive first in the Doug Hall Relays and second in the Optimist and Banner relays. With this short, yet impressive record under their belts, the MBA track team went on to out-throw, outrun, and out-jump fifteen other teams to dominate the region and capture first place for the third year in a row, thus ending yet another successful year for the Big Red track team.

The 1996 MBA Lacrosse season had its ups and downs, highlights and disappointments. The Big Red opened the season at home on a Friday night in nine-degree weather with our biggest crowd of the year. In what would turn out to be our most impressive victory, MBA defeated the Perkiomen School of Pennsylvania 22-3. From there, MBA, with the exception of a few key starters, took its annual Spring Break trip, this year to North Carolina and Virginia, where we lost to some very skilled opponents such as Durham Academy and St. Christophers. These setbacks did not deter the Big Red. In our next home game on a Friday night with another greatly appreciated crowd, MBA came on strong and defeated crosstown rival Brentwood 17-4. MBA then tried to accept the challenge of playing Upper Arlington in Cincinnati, one of the top-ten teams in the country. Despite a bad loss, the Big Red continued on its undefeated course in the state of Tennessee. In this eight-game stretch, MBA put together back-to-back 12-0 shutouts against Christian Brothers of Memphis and against Brentwood. Also, the Big Red pulled out an 8-7 win in the final minute of a home game against Memphis University School. This streak advanced MBA to the top seed in the coming state tournament. For the semifinals on Friday night 17 May, MBA had to play Christian Brothers again, the team that defeated the Big Red in the previous year's state championship final. MBA managed a 7-5 win to advance to the finals. In the championship game on Saturday, MBA never really got anything going. We stayed behind the entire game, hampered by penalties and injuries, and suffered a 7-5 loss. For the second year in a row MBA accepted the Tennessee State Lacrosse Association Runner-Up Trophy. Several players gained All-Star honors and Tyler Coleman was named an All-American.

The Varsity team this year was comprised of seniors Kirk Howell (goalie), Jesse Neil (midfielder), Carson Kaesar (face-off specialist), and Will Parsons (midfielder); juniors Aaron Ferguson (attackman), Jarrett Carden (midfielder), Tyler Coleman (defenseman), Gregg Huggins (defenseman), Justin Vaughn (defenseman), Ryan Witt (midfielder), and Rob Gabbert (backup goalie); sophomores Clay Callison (midfielder), Justin Janco (attackman), Dan Sanders (midfielder), Joey Crace (defenseman), and Grant Dickson (attackman); and freshman Martin Sanders (attackman) and Ben Burn (defenseman). Once again, Coach John Baer, Coach Jeff Lundstrom, and the MBA players would like to thank all the parents and the fans for their support this year.

Debate

In what was supposed to be a "growing year" for MBA Debate, the team surpassed all expectations by assembling a powerhouse squad. Indeed, the sheer number of members on the team helped MBA to win major sweepstakes awards for overall stellar performances. Additionally, as the novices won eleven of the thirteen tournaments they attended, MBA's reputation across the country skyrocketed to new heights as well.

The quest for the top began with a trip to Wake Forest University in North Carolina. In the varsity policy division, Michael Risen and Brian Stults reached the Octafinals before losing to Spam. In Junior Varsity, Nathan Sabel, Josh Hildreth, Rob Humbracht, and Robert Ross all competed in the elimination rounds. Additionally, in Lincoln-Douglas debate, both Deji Okedeji and Tyson Tune had excellent records in the preliminary rounds; as a result, Deji reached the Double-Octafinals and Tyson made it to the Octafinals.

After a number of successes in Alabama tournaments, MBA then traveled to Calhoun, Georgia. The policy JV team of Nathan and Josh got to the Octafinals, losing to crosstown "rivals" MLK. The same weekend, Michael Risen and Brian Stults traveled to the highly competitive Carcas tournament and reached the Quarterfinals before losing on a split decision. Michael was also named eighth speaker.

After a lull in the schedule, MBA's entire team went to the Homewood tournament in Alabama. The Varsity Policy team once again broke so many teams that we hit each other in out rounds. Also noteworthy, Homewood was the birth place of "Stealth," which baffled competitors all over the nation. Novices Travis Swearingen and Samir Idnani took first place honors at the tournament by defeating two members of the Addams family. The greatest awards would come a week later, however, when the team traveled to the Glenbrooks tournament in Brian, as usual, slacking on the job.

Chicago. Nathan Sabel received first speaker in JV policy competition. More importantly, all three novice teams (consisting of Justin Miller, Robbie Quinn, Travis Swearingen, Samir Idnani, Jonathan Green, and Phillip Reynolds) tied for first place at the tournament. Each of the teams remained undefeated throughout the course of the tournament.

In the second semester, the first tournament was MBA's own Southern Bell Forum, a nationally recognized competition for both policy and Lincoln-Douglas debate. Despite a smack in the face from an icy mother nature, Southern Bell went on. At the Vestavia tournament, where Brian and Michael won the policy debate division, Robert "Hoss" Ross and Jack "TNT" Troutt reached the Octafinals, along with Nathan "The Anti-Ryman" Sabel and Rob "Hustler" Humbracht. In the novice policy division, Travis, Samir, Robbie, and Marmet all closed out the final round in a tie for first place.

Several weekends later, the team competed in the Districts tournament, the qualifier for competition at the National Forensic League's Nationals tournament in June. This year, MBA qualified more people than ever before, including two policy debate teams, Lincoln-Douglas alternates, and participants in individual events. In April, Michael and Brian won second place in the Michigan Round Robin for Juniors, a tournament that invited the top seven all-junior teams from across the country. At the conclusion of the year, Brian, Nathan, and Ben all were invited to the Tournament of Champions at the University of Kentucky; this competition takes place every year and invites the top teams from across the country to compete.

In summary, the MBA Debate team had a superb year. "I was excited by the team's performance," noted Coach Alan Coverstone, "especially given the relative inexperience...." Coach Billy Tate added that he expects nothing but improvement next year, especially considering the wide variety of programs available for debaters this summer. "Next year promises to be a banner year from top to bottom," said Mr. Tate. In conclusion, much of MBA's success can be attributed to fantastic coaching; Mr. Coverstone, Mr. DeYoung, and Gordon Hull did an excellent job leading the team to victory. Their work ethic and commitment have been an inspiration to us all. The entire team extends its thanks to them.

This school year was a banner year for the MBA visual arts department. While the strength of the program lies in the day-to-day activities, MBA students were recognized on the local, state, and national level. In the annual Scholastic Art Competition held at Cheekwood in January, MBA students in grades 7-12 captured almost a quarter of the awards given in that competition. Three of the five Hallmark awards went to Kenshin Ichikawa, Joe Montgomery, and Chris Jackson. A special Judges Merit went to Michael Griffin. Overall, MBA received twenty-nine gold, sixteen silver, and eighteen merit awards. Of those, only the gold and Hallmark entries travelled to New York to be judged on a national level. In competition on that level, Kenshin Ichikawa received another Hallmark award, Neely Andrews and Thor Harland received gold awards, and Chris Jackson and Charles Davidson received silver. Kenshin, Neely, and Thor will have their work hanging in the Corcoran Gallery in Washington this summer.

In March, MBA students were awarded a Best School trophy in the Tennessee High School Art Competition held at Belmont University. Thirty-two of the 105 works shown were from MBA. K. J. Schumacher received a Best of Show award in Painting, with Paul Russell, Joe Montgomery, Wilson VornDick, Clay Callison, and Andrew Smaldone winning ribbons.

Finally, in the National Dick Blick Linoleum contest sponsored nationally, Ryan Latimer won first place in the intermediate division with Andrew Rozario claiming a third place. Brent Osborn received a second place in the high school division. David Farrell received an honorable mention.

Rob performs "Patrick Fagan."

At the winter concert, the chorus sang, "Tzor Te'udah", "O Tannenbaum", and "A Night of Silence."

Chorus member Sean Cunningham plays the Irish flute accompanied by Dr. Cassel and Hanlin Qian on strings.

The 1995-1996 MBA Band Program included Beginning Band, Seventh Grade Jazz Band, Eighth grade Jazz Band, and the High School Jazz Band. The Choral Program included the MBA Chorus (High School), the MBA singers (Junior School), and the Men's Ensemble, a small select group drawn from the chorus. The accompaniment provided by Mrs. Ross and the various student musicians aided the chorus immensely.

The instrumental Chamber and Orchestral Music programs provided opportunities for students to perform in small ensembles, which ranged from two to six members. Students also had the option of participating in a larger group, the Chamber Orchestra.

Throughout the year all of our music groups gave concerts on the MBA campus, and provided music for assemblies, the Father-Son Dinner, and the Alumni Banquet. Some advanced performers participated in the All-Middle Tennessee Honors Band, the Tennessee Independent School Honor Choir, the Middle Tennessee Solo and Ensemble Festival, and the Nashville Independent School Honors Band.

Brian plays solo on "Night Train."

Dr. Cassel learns to play piano.

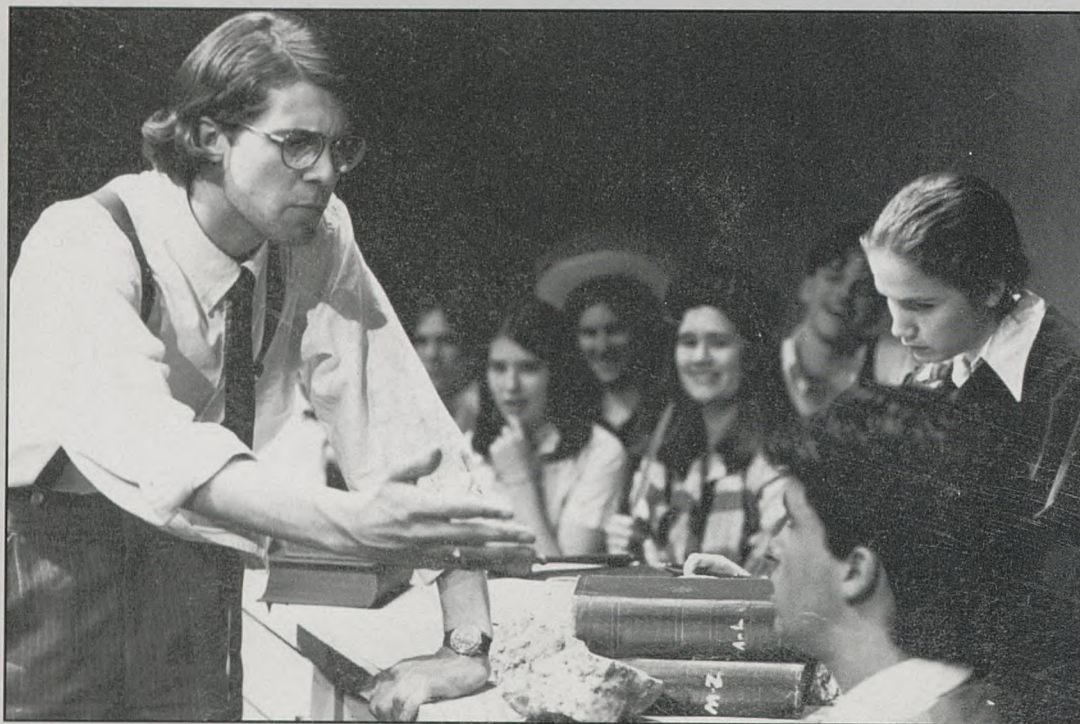

Glenn doesn't play an instrument; he's in the band for 'security reasons.'

Theatre

But Beau, what is an amateur?!

We finally broke even!

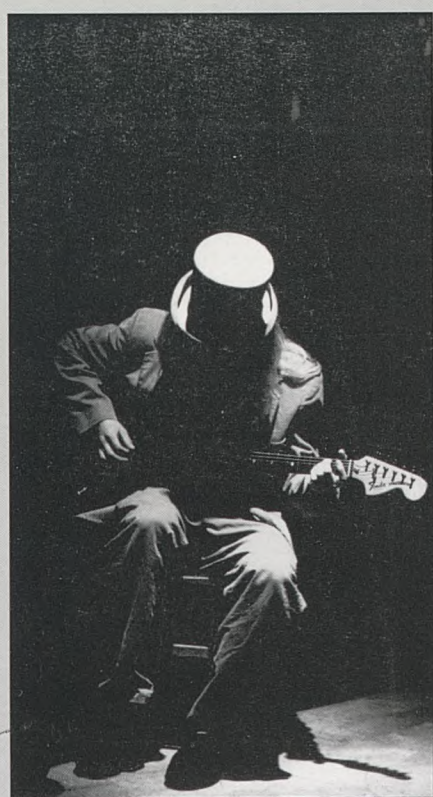

The name's Gary, housewares. Come get some.

From Denmark to London to Rome to Illyria to Hillsboro, Tn., the MBA theatre travelled around the world this year. Despite the loss of numerous talented actors last year, we were able to have our most successful season to date. First, we tackled Tom Stoppard's difficult but brilliant, Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead. Senior Beau Tidwell was handed the daunting task of directing and in spite of big egos, unhappy tragedians and unseen technical problems, he was able to perform the task beautifully. Next came the musical comedy, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, which is now on Broadway. Shakespeare's obscure Twelfth Night marked the first appearance of a faculty member, Mr. Robert Patrick. Finally, for our spring production, we performed Inherit the Wind, a play based on the famous Scopes' monkey trial which occurred in the 1920's in East Tennessee. We would like to thank Mr. Whiteman for his insight into and knowledge about the wonderful world of theatre.

And never wear that kilt again!

Beau was sad that he didn't get to grease his hair like everyone else.

This year, the Student Council actively participated in several social events and began a reform of its constitution. Led by President Brent Osborn, Vice President Corbett Gibson, Secretary James Gunn, and Treasurer Bill McGugin, the council organized a successful and profitable Homecoming dance and helped the Harpeth Hall Student Council erect the scenery for their Valentine's Day dance. Members also began their reform efforts by researching the constitutions of other schools' student councils and carefully examining our own. Additionally, under the watchful eye of Dr. Crowell, the Student Council continued to fund and organize the Soup Kitchen. The Council will finish revising the Constitution next year while providing exciting social events.

This year the Honor Council was determined to avoid a repeat of last year's record number of cases. By trying our best to reaffirm with the student body our dedication to honor, the Council successfully curbed the number of cases with the students' help. The Honor Council especially tried to give the Junior School a solid understanding of honor and integrity, and their importance to a healthy community. This year the Honor Council believed that if more effort were put into safeguarding the integrity of each individual, then the integrity of the entire school would benefit. The officers were: President Will Parsons, Vice-President John Gunn, Secretary Titus Thomas, and Treasurer Akinori Hashimura. The Honor Council would like to thank Mrs. O'Connell for her guidance and help.

This year marked the 46th anniversary of MBA's honorary fraternity, Totomoi. Founded in 1954, the fraternity recognizes outstanding juniors and seniors for their unflagging support and contributions to the school community. To be eligible for Totomoi, a junior or senior must have shown outstanding service and leadership in the following areas: academics, athletics, school or community service, and citizenship. Induction is based on a competitive application and interview process by a faculty selection committee. Attaining Totomoi status is considered one of greatest achievements for an MBA student.

The purpose of the Junior Honor Society is to recognize those students who have distinguished themselves academically during their early years at MBA. In order to be eligible, a student must have three consecutive semesters with an average of 90, each semester during the 7th-8th, 8th-9th, and 9th-10th grades. These semester averages must be earned at MBA and cannot be transferred from a previous school's records. After five semesters have been completed in the high school, students are dropped from the Junior Honor Society. A student must maintain an 85 average to remain in the Society.

This year MBA had twelve students recognized as Commended Students in the National Merit Scholar Program, which places them in the top five percent in the nation of people taking the PSAT. One student, Chris Jones, was recognized as a National Merit semifinalist, which places him in the top one percent. A former student, Ian McClure, was also recognized as a semifinalist.

The 95-'96 Boys and Girls' Club tutorial program completed another successful year working with some Nashville elementary-age students at the Thompson Lane Boys and Girls' Club. This year, after Metro decided to make the game room into a school for special students, we did our tutoring there. The program also acquired four new Macintosh computers which we used for educational programs like Math Munchers and Dig and Divide. Thanks to the staff of the Boys and Girls' Club for their help and support.

The '95-'96 school year marked the initiation of the YMCA Tutoring and Coaching Program at MBA. As the director of both Time to Rise and the YMCA program, Mr. Whitfield stated the program's mission was "to strengthen academic skills and to build bridges between communities." Underprivileged children, mostly from the Casey Homes housing projects, met MBA students at the Kirkpatrick Center of east Nashville every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for about two hours. For the first hour, these young students were tutored by their MBA mentors. For the last hour, they were coached in soccer or basketball, depending on the season.

Representing all of you who paid your dues: Kasselberg, Risen, and Lyle.

Many opportunities to serve MBA and the surrounding community exist at MBA, and the Big Red Club is one such avenue. Unfortunately, the Big Red Club has essentially been dead for about ten years because of waning interest and the emergence of other service groups. Consequently, Mr. Gioia felt that the club was a necessary vehicle for school service and asked Mr. Regen to resuscitate the organization. Under the leadership of Coach Regen, as well as the self-proclaimed officers President John Lyell, Vice-Presidents Douglas Kasselberg and Titus Thomas, and Secretary/Treasurer Michael Risen, the Big Red Club members manned the gates at most sporting events. The successful Spaghetti Supper would not have run so smoothly were it not for the suave, sophisticated Big Red Club waiters. The Big Red Club also supported the 3rd-period-doughnut-break-feeding-frenzies and Amy Grant's Kids Now program with its funds. As far as fan support goes, Big Red Club members made a significant contribution to the majority of sporting events. At football games, drums and other noisemakers were used to annoy opposing teams. The Big Red Dog, John Lyell, was a regular on Channel 4 sports. Cross Country fans held cookouts for the team. Many fans also supported the basketball team as John Lyell, Titus Thomas, and Corey Yates missed a combined five games during the entire season. The Big Red Club will probably continue its rise from the dead next year under Mr. Regen's continuing supervision.

On June 19, 1996, Time to Rise enters its fourth summer on the MBA campus. This year's camp will serve 30-35 sixth graders who will come from various Nashville Metro Public Schools. Once again the five-week camp will consist of morning academics, afternoon sports, and a field trip each Friday. Campers will also receive instruction and practical guidance from professionals in the community every Wednesday.

This year's Time to Rise teaching staff will include MBA's Mr. Small, Mr. Spiegel, Mr. Calhoun, and a recently hired MBA teacher, Mr. Rod Jimmerson. MBA students selected to provide role modelling and counseling expertise this summer will include Rob Bearden, Charles Davidson, Taylor Ripley, Michael Godwin, Jonas Rodriguez, and Grant Dickson. Time to Rise is honored to have these quality young men on staff. It promises to be a great summer.

The '95-'96 Fellowship of Christian Athletes had the best participation of any recent year. With President Bill Maggart leaving the door open to Honeybears almost every week, it was no surprise to see anywhere from fifty to sixty people at every meeting. Current Treasurer and future president Will Bartholomew supplied multiple meetings with brilliant speakers such as former pro-football player William Ewing. Mr. Ewing was informative and interesting and even got fifty MBA students to sing while girls were in the room. MBA strength coach Andre Simms was also an enlightening speaker, bringing his Sunday morning preaching prowess to bear on one of our best meetings. FCA also organized a basketball tournament which ran smoothly, although we grimaced when we gave Coach Bowers the first-place prize of a night on the town in his good ol' truck. Vice President Will Parsons and Secretary Brent Osborn also helped run the Fellowship. We hope and pray next year's officers will inspire a similarly spectacular year of FCA and lay the foundation for a secure future.

This year the Chess Club attempted to resurrect itself from the dead with a new set of members. Unfortunately, the revival was only moderately successful, leaving the Club comatose instead of completely dead. The Club sent few if any members to chess tournaments and meetings were sporadic at best. Most members had too many other interests and commitments to devote themselves fully to chess. Nevertheless, the reemergence of the Chess Club does mark a rebirth of chesspolitik at MBA. We are pretty sure there is hope for the future.

This year, the MBA Service Club thrived in the Nashville community. The group took on many new and interesting projects. Led by Allen Cermak, president, John Lyell, vice-president, Douglas Kasselberg, secretary, Chris Allen, treasurer, Sam O'Connell, sergeant-at-arms, and John Nading, chaplain, the Service Club became larger than ever. With Grassmere, a favorite service project, closing, and the Big Red Club taking over the service opportunities at sporting events, the Service Club had to find other service projects. Members instead set up and took down tables for the Salvation Army, cleared brush at Radnor Lake, and cleaned facilities for Our Kids at Vanderbilt hospital. Club members also set-up tables at Christmas Village, picked up trash for Green Hills Recycling, and tutored students at the YMCA. Members also helped at the Soup Kitchen even though the Student Council took a bigger role in supervising the kitchen. As in the past, Dr. Springer and Mr. Bennett sponsored the Service Club.

Dishes caked with grime and grease. Al's Sprite soaked "Cajun" peanuts. Cermak's girlfriend. A photo-op with Mr. Gioia and Mr. Weaver. Worthwhile community service. MBA students found all these things and more at the Holy Rose Catholic Church's soup kitchen in east Nashville. On the first Saturday of each month, twelve to twenty-five volunteers assembled at MBA at 9:00 AM and drove over to the soup kitchen to fix a meal for the homeless. The volunteers overcame an almost universal ignorance of things culinary to prepare and serve a decent meal under the watchful eyes of Dr. Crowell. The Student Council became the sole sponsor of the Soup Kitchen this year, taking over from the Service Club. As a result, Dr. Crowell bought the food and supervised the kitchen, keeping us on budget with his frugality (a.k.a. cheapness). Frequent volunteers, such as Brent Osborn, Allen Cermak, Al Fuller, Russell Taber, Chad Grief, Steven Marler, Lee Hampton, Sam O'Connell, and many others, helped to keep things running smoothly.

As in the past, Recycle MBA was on the cutting edge of environmental awareness this year. Group members overcame a range of challenges, like cleaning molded and sludge-filled bins, sifting out previously-used Kleenex's, and recycling in winds up to 120 m.p.h., to contribute to making MBA a responsibly-hygienic zone. With the departure of former Recycle MBA sponsor Mr. Lisenby (last seen in Colorado with an unidentified female), Mr. Moxley reassumed his past role of sponsor. He again proved a valuable asset to the club by organizing meetings and keeping the club headed in the right direction. Led by Co-Presidents Douglas Kasselberg, John Buchanan, and Sam O'Connell, Recycle MBA, for the first time ever, raised money for the school by instituting the Champion Recycling program. The money raised by the group goes to support other MBA programs. The future success of Recycle MBA is assured with John Buchanan and Sam O'Connell taking over the helm next year.

Outing Club

Joel Tomlin, Tom Harwell, Bryan Pilson, Taylor Ripley, Raleigh Harwell, Paul Downey, Al Fuller

This year the M.B.A. Outing Club was rejuvenated after a hiatus of several years. Under the guidance of faculty advisor Mr. Tom Harwell, two overnight camping trips were planned for each semester. The Club also benefitted from a much-needed donation of camping gear from the M.B.A. Mother's Club. Thanks, Mom.

In the fall, the Outing Club's first journey was an overnight hike in the Savage Gulf State Park near McMinnville, Tennessee. The outing involved spectacular seven-mile hikes into and out of camp along the rim of the gulf. The group was accompanied by Mr. Womack and Mr. Pederson. Everyone had a great time, thanks to Mr. Harwell's careful planning. On the second fall trip, Mr. Harwell led a group of junior-schoolers hiking in the Smokey Mountains. Two more trips were planned for the spring, including an overnight hike in the Big South Fork Recreation Area. Mr. Harwell also planned and led a three-week long trip to the Tetons in the summer for junior school students.

Is This My Punishment?

What did I do?
 Why am I doing this?
 This is ignorance befallen to me.
 No, it wasn't my fault
 That's what they tell me at least.
 Fight all you want,
 you don't feel torn apart,
 being forced to choose between the two.
 Am I strong enough to stand up?
 Only time will tell.
 I'll be grown up soon,
 I'll be away.
 Will only then my worries dissipate?

The 1995-96 school year marked the fifty-first year of publication for the school newspaper, The Bell Ringer. A dedicated staff embarked on an odyssey to produce the highest quality publication possible, conveying to the student body both the news affecting them as well as their many sentiments. The editors were: Managing, Evan Chen; Copy, Eric Compton; Entertainment, Matt Reasor and Jack Troutt; News, Lee Hampton; Opinions, Chris Allen; Sports, Scott Bowen; Photography, Joe Montgomery; Business, Stephen Wall; and Editor-in-Chief Benjamin Purser. Six full issues were published this school year by The Bell Ringer, each demanding much time and effort. This result would not have been possible without the dedication of faculty advisors Dr. Griffith and Mrs. Hamblen. This year was Dr. Griffith's last as the chief advisor to the newspaper, after five years of continuously raising the readership of the publication. Because of administrative duties, he will now be acting in an assisting role. Despite this loss, The Bell Ringer will continue to play a pivotal role of student life.

The Bell 95-96: Flagg Lite-now less efficient. This year the yearbook staff worked long and hard to turn out a masterpiece. Fearlessly led by Douglas Kasselberg, the section editors almost got all their assignments finished on time. Because of "previous engagements," they had to work marathon sessions most weekends.

On a more serious note, I looked to previous yearbooks for guidance and inspiration. In the 1944 Maroon and White, Editor John Butterfield said of the MBA yearbook's future, "We would like to see it gradually expand until every phase of school life is covered. We also hope that this annual may continue to present an objective review of the school year and show school life just as it is." I believe that Mr. Butterfield and his staff would be content with this year's product. The Bell has incorporated all aspects of student life into the annual, ranging from the Camp Laney experience of the Junior School to the Junior-Senior Prom and the Soup Kitchen in the High School.

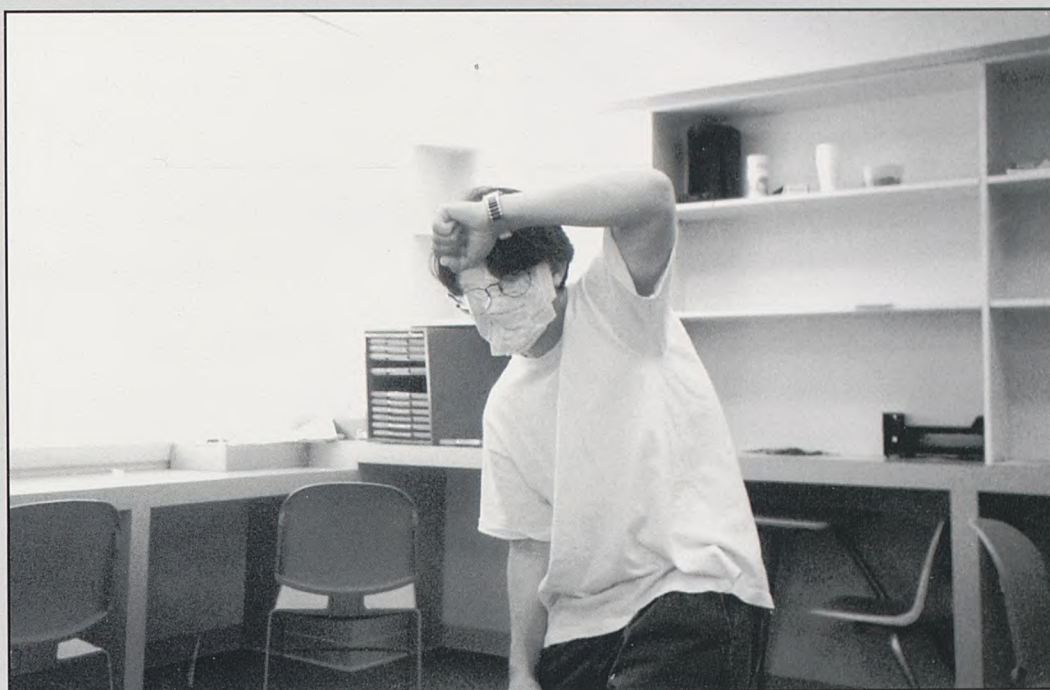

The Bell was made possible by the outstanding help from many students who contributed articles for the organizations and sports pages to the teachers who supplied us with the necessary information. I thank the entire student body for being so gracious to help with posing for photographs and not complaining excessively about submitting senior bios at the designated time. The Editors of The Bell to whom you should be grateful are Sports Editors John Lyell and Jamie Pfeffer; Senior Bios Editors Chris Allen and John Nading; Copy Editor Evan Chen; Features Editors Michael Risen and Lee Hampton; Mug Editors Mark Yopp and Sam O'Connell; Faculty Editor Bryan Sturtevant; Business Editor Chris Nalbantyan; Editor-at-Large Jon David Daniell, and myself, Editor-in-Chief Douglas Kasselberg.

To produce this massive work, over 10,000 hours were logged, simply to appease the student body. If you don't like it, then lie to us and tell us that you have not seen a better yearbook, EVER! Now, why should we clutter up this page with words that no one will read? Without further apologies we will use this space for desultory photographs of our staff.

The '95-'96 school year provided students with an impressive group of assembly speakers, from former presidential candidate Lamar Alexander to alumni R.A. Dickey. Junior Senior Prom

This year's prom was a decided success. Under the leadership of junior-class President Will Bartholomew, Vice-president Robert "Hoss" Ross, Secretary Russell Taber and Treasurer Chad Grief, the 1996 prom turned out to be, in the words of Mrs. Orth: "The best prom I can remember." Playing at prom was the band Peel, returning after their popular Homecoming appearance, who roused the crowd with a stunning Alanis Morissette impersonation by their male keyboardist. The Star Wars set, flanked by two imposing Imperial Guards painted by Joe Montgomery, turned out great. The projection of the Star Wars movies onto an entire wall of the gym allowed those without dates to have some entertainment. A special thanks goes out to the junior-class advisors, Mr. Womack, Dr. Springer, and Mrs. Orth, and to all those juniors who helped out at the poinsettia sale, Ping-Pong tournament, concessions, painting sessions, set construction, and cleanup. Thanks to the Art Committee of John Hearn, Joe Montgomery, Kenshin Ichikawa and to the Band committee of Bill McKnight Thom Little, Andrew Smaldone, and Jake Beesley. And special thanks to Hanley Sayers and Paul Russell.

Dedication

For her loyalty and service to the students of Montgomery Bell Academy, the 1996 Junior School Bell dedicates the yearbook to

Mrs. Carmen Morrissey

Thanks for taking care of us!

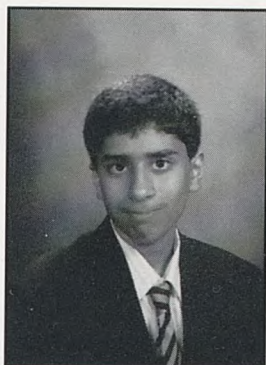

"What time does school get out today? Can I borrow $4 for lunch? Can I use your phone to call my parents? What teacher do I go to for appealing my demerits?" These are just a few of the million questions that Mrs. Carmen Morrissey is asked every day by students. Her infinite knowledge of everything on campus and her devotion to making students' lives easier and more enjoyable is seen every day. From planning outside school activities, such as the Father-Son Dinner, to passing out the announcements, Mrs. Morrissey helps us all in many ways. In appreciation of the time and dedication that she puts into the lives of all junior school students, we dedicate the 1996 Junior School Bell to Mrs. Carmen Morrissey.

The Microbe Football team finished its best year in a long time, going undefeated. The Microbes easily destroyed the competition, led by the running of Jonas Rodriguez and the leadership of Chris Camp. The starting defense for the Microbes did not give up a single point all year. Thanks to the great coaching and support of Coach Roberts and his staff.

The Little Red won all but one regular season meet and placed second in the HVAC finals.

Attempting to retain the HVAC title, this year's Microbe Cross Country team won all the regular season meets except one. In the finals we were ranked first with tough competition from Brentwood Academy. Despite record times by leaders Mason Guiffre, Adam Johnson, Adam Sinks, and Phillip Simpson in the one-and-a-half-mile run, the team was beaten by B.A., losing the final meet by a point.

The Microbe Wrestling team had a good season this year. The Microbe baseball team had a somewhat disappointing year, winding up with a losing record. The outstanding leadership of Jay Pettus and Eric Larence was offset by injuries that set us back a couple of games. With Will Tucker out of the lineup, Josh Ritter and Halsey Fisher picked up the slack with no-hitters. The team's most consistent hitters were Nathan Sensing, Mason Guiffre, and Eric Larence. Coach Elliott and Coach Caudill coached brilliantly and look to move up to the big leagues some day.

The Microbe tennis team finished the regular season undefeated in the HVAC. In the AA division tournament held at Brentwood Academy at the end of the season, the team finished a close second to Brentwood Middle School. Commencement Exercises

On the 30th of May, 1996, Montgomery Bell Academy celebrated another successful, although sad Commencement Program, for this day marked the last time that the class would stand as one, as we have stood together through many years.

The ceremony was marked by a tremendous speech by Salutatorian Mark Pettus, describing his feelings of attending one of the country's best private schools. The Valedictory address, given by Chris Allen, was filled with much emotion and meaning for the entire graduating class. Next, Mr. Morgan Entrekin addressed the student body and spoke of his days at MBA and how he rebelled and went against the grain. He stressed to the graduating class the importance of free thinking and self-expression. Many students, after hearing his thought-provoking speech, wanted to "seize the day!" After each student had received his diploma, Headmaster Gioia addressed the class, giving an emotional speech on the bright future that each and every student has within himself, a fond and moving farewell from our home the past few years.

Salutatorian Mark Pettus walks off stage after a brilliant speech.

The MBA Chorus once again blesses Graduation Day with its enchanting music.

Valedictorian Chris Allen ponders MBA and for what the school has prepared us.

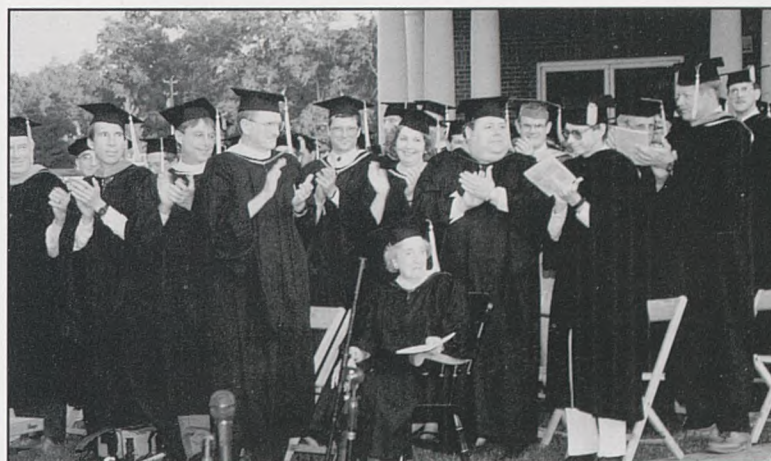

Right: Mrs. Simmons receives praise for her work and love she gave to Montgomery Bell Academy.

Stylin' T. Eddie Sisk, Senior Class President, shows off his threads as he accepts an award.

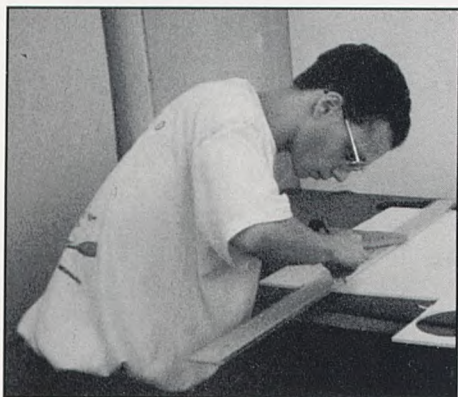

The Class of 1996 stands as a whole one last time.

Editor's Page

When I came to MBA in the ninth grade, one of my goals, though at the time seemingly impossible, was to be any kind of editor on the yearbook staff. Here I am now, the editor-in-chief, of a 220-page book. I've been very humbled by this experience. I remember freshman year when I approached Mr. Moxley about working on the coveted Bell staff. He told me that because of the large number of interested students that year, it would be best if I chose a different activity. A few weeks later, however, I came back and asked him again. My persistence paid off; my role was minimal, though from that bit of experience, my interest was spurred. Here I stand, a part of history, not just any kind of history, but Montgomery Bell Academy heritage and tradition. This feeling is indescribable; if one is not a part of this tradition, one simply does not understand the feeling of being a part of MBA's history. I look before me and I see annuals dating back to 1944. My parents were not even born when an MBA tradition of yearbooks, of which I am a part, was started!

I cannot thank everyone who made my job a little (a lot) easier, without undoubtedly forgetting a few important people. To those I forget, let me tell you "thank you" right now. In addition to the forgotten ones, I would like to thank the following people:

My family — who "allowed me," though on their time, to be gone entire weekends and even on weeknights to meet deadlines (Sorry about the missed dinners!).

Mr. Moxley — who corrected my corrections and many that I did not; for keeping your cool when I could not; for telling me to relax while you took care of some of the duties. And for my "screw-up"-- sorry once more and thank you. The entire staff will really miss you; we all wish that you were returning!

The Mothers' Club — for supplying The Bell with the necessary funds to run as successful a yearbook as we are capable.

Mr. Weaver and Mr. Gioia — for your positive nature and caring attitude in asking how the yearbook was going. Thank you also, Mr. Weaver, for the great photos!

John Lyell - besides being a great friend, you truly are, by right, an editor, if not the editor of The Bell. Your work goes unrewarded, but not forgotten. Thanks for keeping me sane on the weekends (random pizzas)!!

Chris Allen and John Nading - for the expert senior bios turned in the earliest ever and without any corrections needed (an MBA first)! Congratulations! Without you, The Bell would not have been possible. You truly work well as a team (your cars prove this fact)!!

Jon David - you were always with us in spirit when you were unable to be with us in body.

Michael Risen - all I can say is "Good luck!!!!!" Seriously, I feel confident about leaving this onerous, but rewarding task, in your hands. I know you are capable of this great challenge. HA! HA! HA!

Chris Nalbantyan - for coming through in the clutch! Without your hard effort and work, we never would have made some deadlines!

Lee Hampton, Mark Yopp, and Bryan Sturtevant - all of your hard efforts did indeed pay off. Lee, you were a valuable asset to us this year; the entire staff is sorry you are leaving, but good luck with the paper. Mark, what more can I say: after you stopped procrastinating and actually worked, you proved your reason for being on the staff-- you're a hard worker. Bryan, I didn't really think that you knew what you were doing, but as the year progressed you proved me wrong. Good job!!

There is not much more I can say which I haven't said already; however, let me leave you with one more thank you for making my job what it was! This book is not entirely my own effort. It is an effort on behalf of all The Bell editors who helped it become what it is now. Congratulations! This yearbook is as much a gift to you as it is to me.

Good Luck, Will

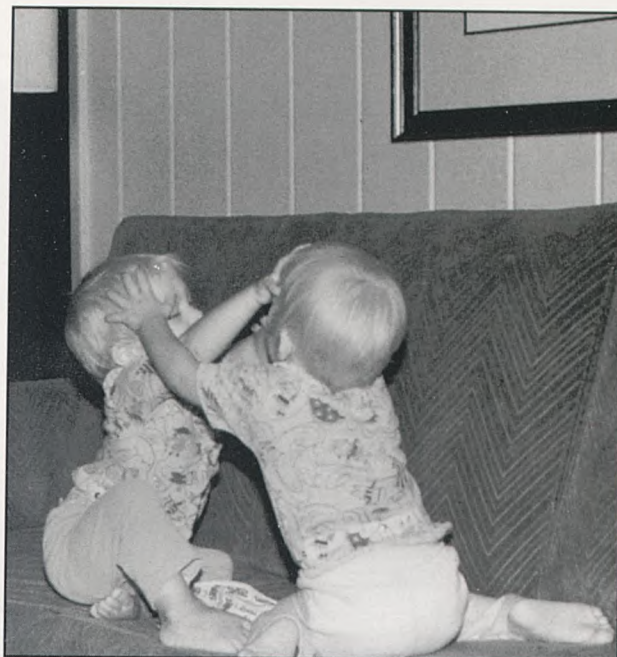

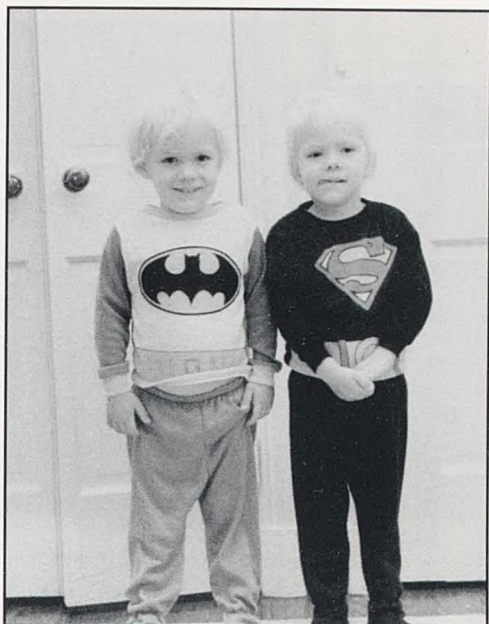

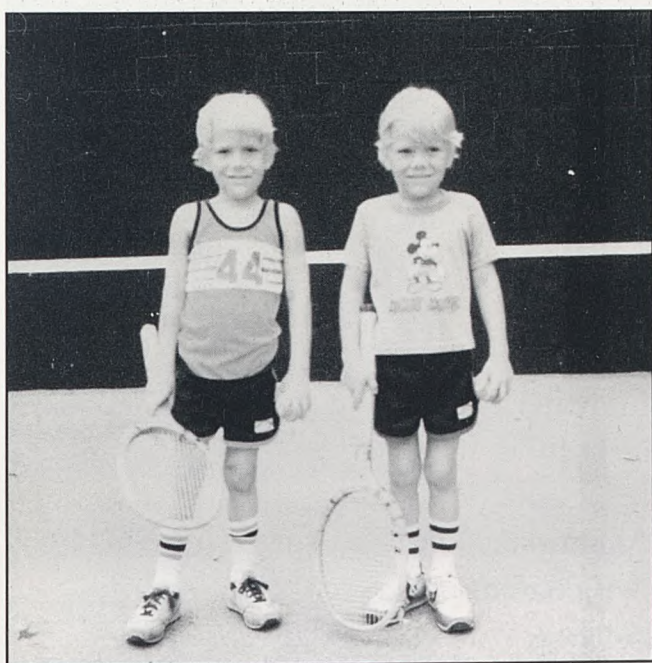

Paul, you were born the day before your oldest brother took the entrance exam for MBA. This picture of you was made in the fall of Ken's senior year. At his graduation the following May, you leaned over during the awards and speeches in that hot, humid gym and asked patiently, "How many more innings?" You've been there on The Hill for hundreds of innings, football games, and matches. You played in the dirt behind the backstop, in the field behind the stadium, and in the corners of the gym, and when you grew up, you watched and cheered. You were always there to support your brothers-- first Ken, then Frank and John-- and you played games of your own, but most importantly, you excelled in the classroom.

You are the last of this generation of Downeys to represent the MBA ideal: "Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete." You have done it well, and we are so very proud of you.

GENTLEMEN, SCHOLARS, ATHLETES

Remember, Benjamin, Success is

To laugh often and love much;
To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children;
To earn the approbation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty;
To find the best in others;
To give oneself;
To leave the world a bit better,
Whether it be by a healthy child,
a garden patch,
or a redeemed social condition;
To have played and laughed with enthusiasm
and sung with exaltation;
To know one life has breathed easier
because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.

-- Ralph Waldo Emerson

Mrs. Simmons, We Will All Miss You!

Mrs. Simmons hard at work!

Mildred Simmons retires as librarian after twenty-three years of dedicated service developing the Patrick Wilson Library. "It has been a privilege and a pleasure to work with MBA's students and faculty," says Mrs. Simmons. "I could not have found a nicer place or nicer people to have worked with." She has especially enjoyed getting to know many mothers who have volunteered their time in the library. Under her direction, the MBA library has experienced many advancements, especially in collection development, automated cataloguing, and introducing other library software. Mrs. Simmons sees her retirement from MBA and the renovation planned for the library not as an ending but a new beginning for her and for the Patrick Wilson Library.

Mrs. Simmons always willing to give advice.

Mrs. Simmons' presence!

Mr. Bennett, The Hill Won't Be The Same Without You!

"Montgomery Bell Academy has been a great part of my life for thirty three-years--twenty-five as Athletic Director. This opportunity to work with great headmasters, Francis E. Carter, Gordon Bondurant, Dr. Douglas Paschall, and Brad Gioia, has been a privilege very few will ever have.

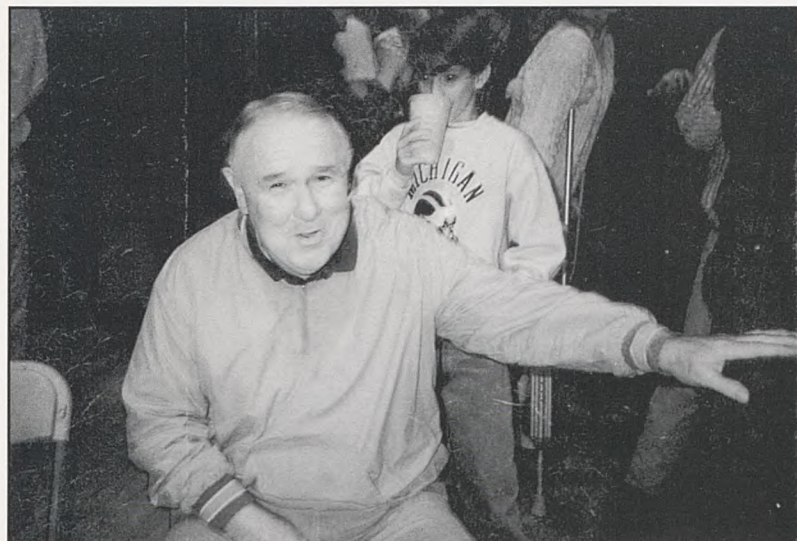

"MBA stands for excellence in all areas, and the association I have had with students, fellow teachers, coaches, and especially the staff will always be remembered.

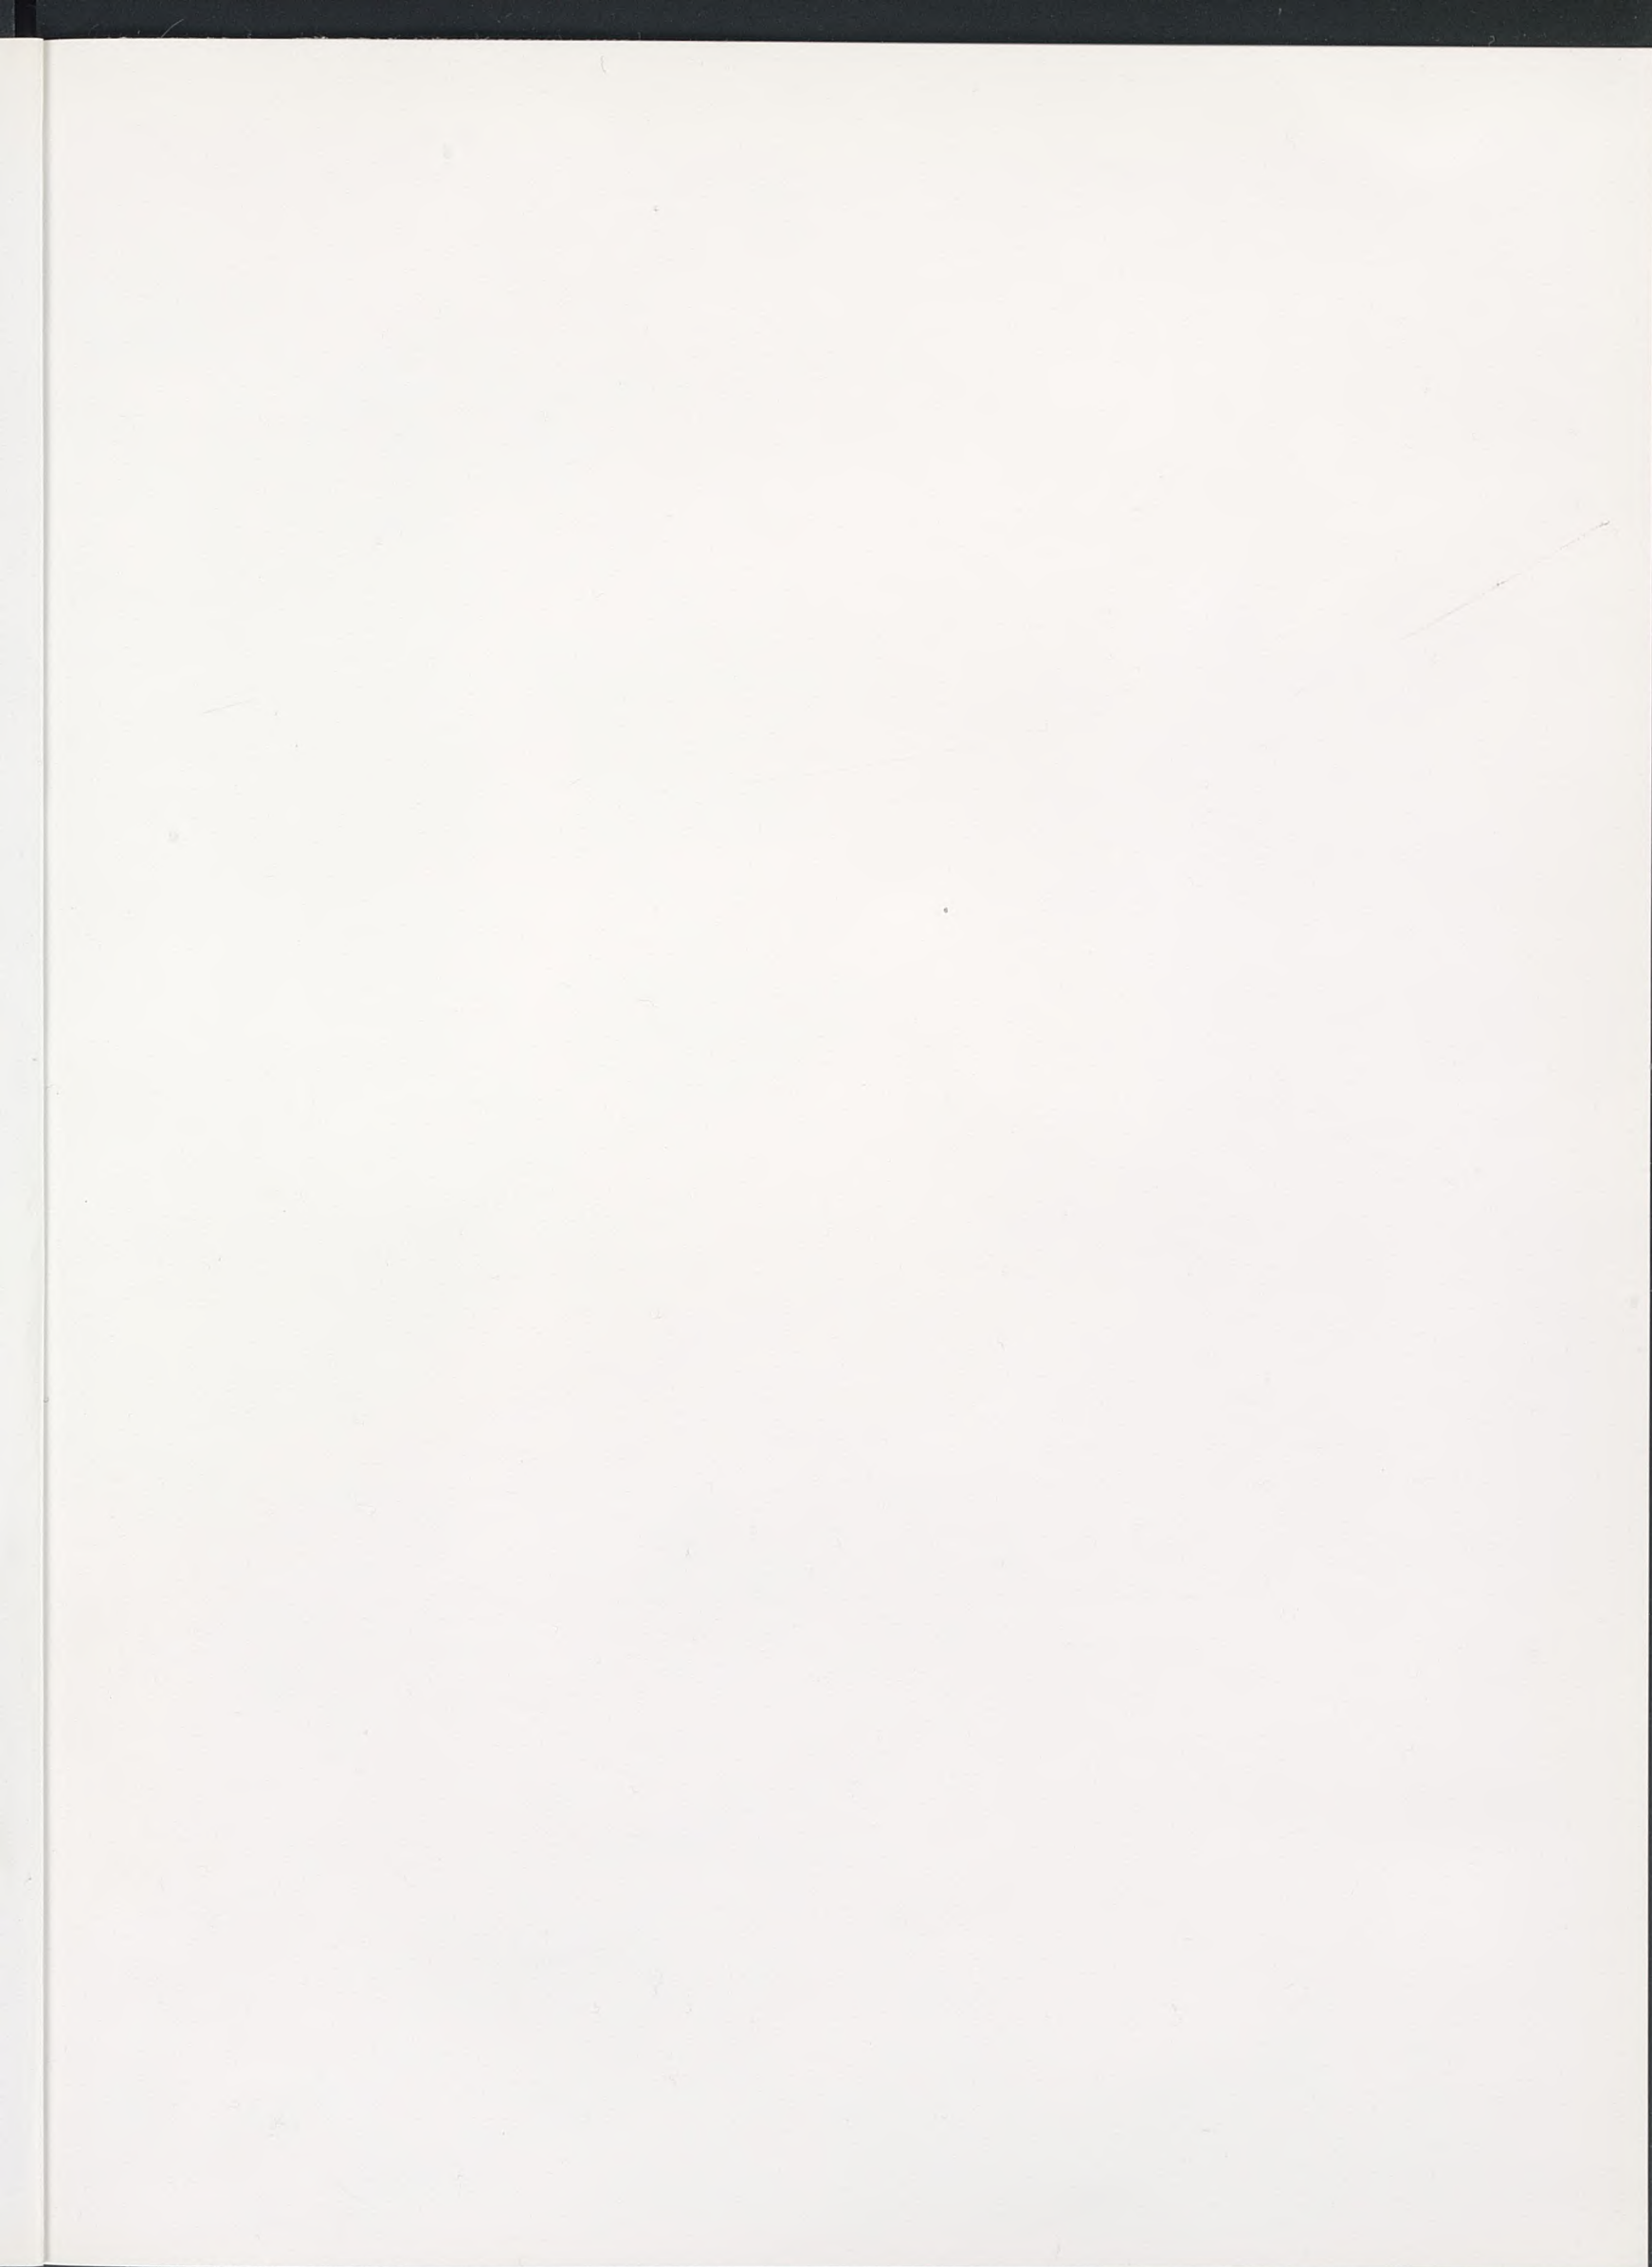

"In athletics, MBA has always competed at the highest level in TSSAA and fortunately been successful because of the excellence in the coaching staff and the dedication and effort of the student athletes.

"I could not leave out Tommy Owen, Fred Forehand, Dr. Douglas Paschall, and Laird Smith who were not only good friends but great men. A most rewarding experience has been to work with eight to ten former MBA students now on the faculty.

"To the present faculty— you are the best. To Jim Poston— I will miss you.

"It has been a good run. Thanks to the administration and to the Board of Trust for your understanding and support."
